Please join us Wednesday, December 2, 2015

from 2:30-3:30 p.m.

for a free webinar on

Adolescent Self-Management – Online for School Nurses and Educators

The American Academy of Pediatrics and Bright futures recommends an annual screen of adolescents for risks that can result in a negative impact on their life and health. During this webinar we will demonstrate a quick and easy way to screen students for a number of risks to include nutrition, exercise, dental health, sleep, depression, suicide, school and home safety as well as personal safety, reproductive health, and substance abuse. Observe how students can develop their own action plan to help them make improvements in their health habits or decrease risk behaviors. Please join us to see how this online tool developed by The Marshall University School-Health Technical Assistance Center can help you identify and address these issues. Please join Mary Grandon, PA and Stephanie Montgomery from Marshall University School-Health Technical Assistance staff for a demonstration of the program.

This training is offered only via WebEx (no conference call lines will be available). The Webinar is FREE but you must register in advance. We are limited to 100 WebEx participants, so please register early and plan for group access when able. This webinar will be recorded and posted with CEU's for future listening for those unable to attend the live offering.

Registration Link, CEU Information and Presenter Bio are available on our webpage:
